This Is a Man's Store,

and why shouldn't men come here to trade? Our assortments in men's wear are larger and more varied than those of the exclusive furnishing stores.

The illusion, if there ever was one, has long been destroyed about men buying their wearables at a department store.

Our standards may be judged from the following well known lines, viz.:

Alfred Benjamin & Co's. Clothing
"Hawes" Hats
Taylor-Made Shoes
Faultless Shirts
Dent's Gloves
Bonbon Underwear

all standard and high-class lines, always complete in variety and sizes. Join the crowd to-day.

COOL SUITS
COAT and PANTS
 At $5 to $12.

Yes, you need one and you should buy it here. You really don't know what comfort is, 'till you've slipped on one of those Gray Home-spun coats, without lining. Shoulders are padded, not too much, and hair cloth fronts will keep them from sagging.

Pants made comfortable, too. Cut full and roomy, with turn up bottoms and belt loops. We've the new colors here, waiting for the word from you. Try a 2 piece suit.

New Straw Shapes
NEW STRAW SHAPES.

The shape taken to by the city chaps is a small one—high crown and narrow brim. Of course it's here, and has been all season. Will just suit the young fellow who wants to be tuned up to the proper key.

The Hartley Standard Means Either Better Quality or Lower Prices.

There's No Let Up to the Interest Displayed in the Great Wash Goods Sale.

We know that other stores throughout the country bought more largely of the stock of Sweetser, Pembroke & Co., but they couldn't possibly sell it any faster than has this store the last three days. 24,000 yards is a good many; equal to 2,000 dresses of 12 yards each. That constituted the stock when put on sale Wednesday morning. It's already lessened by several thousand yards, and we do not expect to have a yard of it left a week from now.

That may sound a little too good to be true to some of you, but we assure you the statement is founded on facts, to which the last three days selling give mute testimony.

PLANS FOR NEW
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

WILL BE OPEN FOR INSPECTION
TO-NIGHT AT THE ANNIVERSARY MEETING—LOCATION HAS BEEN SELECTED.

TO-NIGHT'S MEETING WILL BE A GREAT EVENT—SECRETARY HAWLEY WILL HAVE EVERYTHING IN FIRST CLASS SHAPE.

This evening the local Y. M. C. A. will celebrate its first anniversary. Secretary Hawley and the committee have arranged many good things for those who come and it will be a long remembered event. The rooms will be decorated with June roses galore and entrancing strains of music will be rendered by MacArthur's best orchestra. Ladies in bewitching smiles and costumes will serve edibles dainty and toothsome, all of which will contribute to make the first anniversary a big event.

Plans of the new Y. M. C. A. building, prepared by a local architect, will be open for inspection. The location, which the management has the refusal of, is an ideal site, just on the edge of the business center and contiguous to the residence portion of the city. The location is next to the Clayton building at the south side of the iron bridge. The building, if built there, will have a sub-structure of three stories, in which will be the swimming pool, a spacious gymnasium, with a running track 25 laps to the mile, dressing rooms, shower baths, etc. The super-structure will consist of four stories above street level. The first will contain room for two stores and the main entrance. The general association quarters will occupy the second, with an auditorium in the rear. The upper floors will have dormitories for young men and a roof garden above. There will be numerous interesting features in the building, among them a large room in which bands can practice and military companies drill. It is the intention of the directors and members to have the new building as soon as possible.

Invitations have been sent to all the members and the auxiliary to come and bring their friends this evening. A large crowd is expected to be present and they will be courteously received.

PROHIBS

COAL TIPPLE
WRECKED

TRAIN OF COAL CARS JUMPED TRACK AND WRECKED COAL TIPPLE.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., June 17.—A coal train going at a pretty good rate of speed jumped the track at the Clarksburg Fuel Company's coal tipple at Glenn Falls at two o'clock Thursday morning, crashed against the tipple supports and the whole structure over the tracks fell wrecked causing a loss of nearly five hundred dollars. No one was hurt. Six cars went off the track and some of them were mashed up considerably. The accident will cause a delay in shipping operations until the damage can be repaired.

GOVERNOR NASH

Is in a Critical Condition—There is No Hope For His Recovery.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 17.—The condition of Governor Nash this morning is unchanged. His physicians say he is suffering from Arterial Sclerosis; a hardening of the principal artery leading from the heart and that there is no hope for his recovery.

PREVIOUS SHIP DISASTERS.

Many Vessels Have Been Destroyed By Quick Fires.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The waters of New York and its vicinity have been marked by a large number of marine disasters, many of them caused by fires that spread too rapidly to be controlled.

Perhaps the worst steamboat disaster in the history of these waters was the explosion on the Staten island ferryboat, Westfield, which occurred at the battery on Sunday, July 30, 1871. The boat was jammed with excursionists bent on a Sunday outing. Without a minute's warning the boiler exploded, killing fifty persons and wounding hundreds more.

The upper deck of the boat was shattered into fragments. Crushed and mangled bodies were hurled many feet. Many of the wounded who were brought ashore and laid upon the wharves, died soon afterward.

The steamer, City of Richmond, of the New York and Hartford Line, was burned at her pier during the night of Thursday, March 3, 1904. Fortunately, there was only one life lost, though a great panic took place on board. Among the many other notable steamboat fires around the waters of New York have been the following:

Morrisania, burned August 28, 1895. Newburgh, fire, December 5, 1889. Newburgh, fire, January 30, 1900. Riverdale, explosion, August 29, 1883.

Songstress, burned, November 23, 1903.

St. John, burned, June 25, 1885.

Sylvan Dell, fire, July 9, 1880.

Thomas McManus, burned, August 27, 1902.

Tremont, burned, February 9, 1904.

Waterbury, burned, December 1, 1893.

City of Albany, burned, October 7, 1894.

Bristol, December 31, 1888.

Golden Gate, burned, May 17, 1880.

Thomas P. Way, burned, July 21, 1888.

Bay Ridge, burned (2d ed.), August 12, 1888.

A number of young people took an outing at Traction Park yesterday. They went up in the forenoon and stayed all day. Well-filled baskets were taken, which always adds to the pleasantness of an outing. All had a fine time and were sorry that the day ended so soon.

"BOSTING"

IS DOING THE CELEBRATION ACT TO-DAY—MONUMENT TO GENERAL WARREN.

BOSTON, Mass., June 17.—The monument to General Joseph Warren, the first distinguished victim of the Revolutionary war was dedicated to-day in Roxbury with elaborate ceremonies.

With ear-splitting cannon crackers, fizzing sky rockets, banging revolvers, military and civic parades and band concerts, Charlestown is to-day celebrating the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The military and civic parade started at 2 o'clock and was made up of all the military and civic societies of Charlestown.

The climax of to-day's celebration will be a grand electrical parade this evening in which hundreds of beautiful young women will take part in portraying groups of historical events.

Although Judge Emms finally declared he would make Charlestown, on the night before Bunker Hill Day, as quiet as any Sabbath evening, there is no record that there has been more noise on the evening of the seventeenth, since the time that General Warren fell fighting the British than there was last night. The event was ushered in early in the evening by young America and fire crackers, fish horns and every other noise-making arrangement. Up to an early hour this morning more than fifty arrests had been made by the Charlestown division officers. The most serious disturbance of the night occurred at City Square when, starting, it is said by a drunken brawl, a mob of 500 men, women and boys got into a free-for-all fight.

Fell From Roof.

Dallas Barker, a roofer in the employ of Jack Morgan, fell from Hartley's stable, in the rear of his residence on Quincy street, about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, sustaining a broken arm and numerous bruises. He was taken to the Miners' Hospital immediately after the accident, where he is doing nicely.

The Delmonico.

As will be seen in our columns, we now have the famous Delmonico. It is a trolley under no name. L. Protzman, county, is a good
